Washington News

PARDONED. Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—The president pardoned Geo. Sims, convicted of participating in a conspiracy to defraud the government in a pension case and services.

REPORTED FAVORABLY. Senator Blair, from the committee on a Senator Blair, from the committee on education and labor, reported favorably on Senator Frye's bill to provide for the appointment by the president of a commission of five persons to investigate the alcoholic liquor traffic, and it provides that members of the commission shall be selected with reference to personal fitness and capacity for honest and thorough investigation. It also stipulates that all of them shall be advo-cates of the investigation.

The house committee on military affairs

The house committee on military affairs to-day, by a vote 6 to 1, passed favorably upon Representative Laird's bill, for the protection of the people in Arizona and New Mexico. It provides for the raising of one regiment of volunteer cavalry in each territory for one year's service, composed and officered by actual residents of the territories named.

The house committee on territories heard The house committee on territories heard a delegation of Indians representing five civilized tribes of the Indian Territory, in opposition to bills for the organization of the territory of Oklahoma. They expressed general opposition to these and all bills affecting their present relations with the government. All they wanted was for the government to keep faith with them, and the organization of Oklahoma, they claimed, would be a violation of treaty stimulations. would be a violation of tresty stipulations. In reply to Ex-Representative Clark's charge that Okiahoma was now simply a pasture charges in which they accused Mr. Clark and others who urge the organization of the territory, as being in collusion with railroad and cattlemen.

Senator Sewell's military bill which passed the senate to-day, for an annual appropriation of purpose of providing arms, and ordinance stores, quartermaster stores, and camp equipage for militia, the appropriation to be apportioned among the several states and territories. No state shall, however, receive its share of the appropriation unless its military for a number propriation unless its military for a number of at least 100 men to each senator and re-presentative entitled in congress.

THE DIFFICULTY EXPLAINED. Senor Romio, the Mexican minister Washington, has received form the government from the state of Chihushus, Mexico an efficial report of the unfortunate en counter which the Mexican forces had with the United States troops commanded by Captain Crawford at the mountains of Bavis Chihushus on the 11th ult. It is stated in Chihuabus on the 11th ult. It is stated in the report that the Mexicans, commanded by Major Maurico Corrodor, arrived en that day at a place called Tioper in the Sierra of Bavis where they knew that Apache Indians who had revolted under the leadership of Geronimo ware. The Mexicans fired on the United States troops in the belief that they were hostiles, and in the fight which ensued Maj. Maurico Corodor, First Lieutenant Juan De La Cruz and Privates Mariana Madrid and Luiz Estrada were killed, and four other soldiers.

Estrada were killed, and four other soldiers wounded; that as soon as the Mexican forces wounded; that as soon as the Mexican lorces found out that they were firing at United States soldiers they stopped firing and expressed to the latter their regret at the loss of both commanders. The department gives an excuse for the above mistake in the difficulty of distinguishing the renegade Indians from scouts, and adds that the latter than the statement of the statement o Indians from scouts, and adds that the latter behaved themselves in their camp and in the view of officers, but when they get out under the pretext of hunting or looking for hostile Indians they sometimes commit great depredations upon the peaceful inhabitants on the frontier and cannot readily be distinguished from the hostile Indians. It was reported from Mexico that the scouts killed and wounded on December 17th a considerable number of cattle and horses belonging to a Mexican, and that on the 23rd, while they were in camp at a place distant about a mile from Gusuabas, Sonora, seven of the scouts entered the village and committed great outrages and the mayor was forced te ask for armed forces to bring them to order, and one of the scouts was wounded. One of the same Indians killed afterwards eleven head of cattle and wounded others near Garmadas, and killed two men who were leading mules loaded with goods which were stolen by the acouts. It is also reported that three Mexicans were attacked on the 8th of January on the road that leads from Nacosori to Uncas. The Mexicans succeeded in escaping but their donkeys, their cargo and pack-saddles were captured. The report says further that the donkeys, their cargo and pack-saddles were captured. The report says further that the Constitution, the official journal of the state of Sonora, contained a detailed statement of the outrages committed by the scouts, and the result has been to address a petition to the general government not to allow the scouts to cross over into Mexican territory. FORTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 5.—Among the petitions presented and appropriately referred were a number by Messrs. Hoar, Frye, Cullom, Conger, Dawes and Allison, from various assemblies of the Knights of

The chair laid before the senate the reso-tion heretofore submitted by Mr. Dawes, calling on the interior department for copies of all the papers in the possession of the de-partment, or that had been received by any officer in that department, as to the performpartment, or that had been received by any officer in that department, as to the performance of the duties of Henry Ward White. The resolution was agreed to without debate. An amended joint resolution to make Tampa, Florida, a port of entry was passed. On motion of Mr. Conger the senate took up and passed the bill to provide for the sale of Fort Brady, Mich., and for the purchase of a new site and the erection of suitable buildings.

On motion of Mr. Sweet the senate passed the bill amending sections of the revised statutes relating to the annual appropriations for militia.

He (Logan) then called attention to the vote of the senator's own state; that Dakota, with only a quarter of a million of population, had polled 31,000 votes, while South Carolina, with a population of a million, had only polled 91,000 votes, and he (Logan) he dinquired whether, if an explanation was required for Dakota, an explanation was, that at the last election in South Carolina, was, that at the last election in South Carolina, was, that at the last election in South Carolina, was, that at the last election in South Carolina, was, that at the last election in South Carolina was, th

Mr. Butler—I shall be through in a moment. Perhaps these things can be explained.

Mr. Logan—I was going to do it.

Mr. Butler—I shall be glad to hear the explanation in a moment.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Butler alluded to the pensions paid to union soldiers and said he had voted for millions upon millions of such pensions to the comrades of the senator of Illinois, while his (Mr. Butler's) comrades neither expected or received a cent, but paid their share of the taxes. He did not complain of this. The comrades of the senator from Illinois were entitled to the thanks and honor of the government; but people had no right to be eternally flaunting their performances in the face of the public in order to excite prejudice against others.

the public in order to excite prejudice against others.

Mr. Logan said he had not attacked the state of South Carolina. He had thought he was complimenting that state when he had said that South Carolina had always been in the forefront of Democratic leadership. Regarding the vote of Illinois, quoted by Mr. Butler, Mr. Logan asked Mr. Butler where he got his figures. where he got his figures.

Mr. Butler replied, in the American Almanac.

Mr. Logan—All men semetimes make mistakes. He recited the figures of the votes cast of Illinois for several years past, showing a constantly increasing vote in that state, the figures for 1878 being 546,660, and for 1884 as much as 672,669. At every presidental election, he said, since such the second in this country, presidental election, he said, since such elections had beer known in this country, the vote of Illinois had increased over that of the prior election. How was it with South Carolina with a population of a million of people? That state in 1880 polled 170,960 votes, while with the same population, and perhaps an increase, in 1884 the vote polled was only 92,862 votes. If, therefore, the vote of Illinois had increased by 50,000 the vote of South Carolina had decreased by 78,000.

or, ook the vote of south Carolina had de-creased by 78,000.

Mr. Butler, in his remarks, said it was amusing to note the interest which sena-tors with presidential aspirations took in this matter of the admission of Dakota. this matter of the admission of Dakota.

Mr. Logan replied that the reference to the presidential bill constituted a very poor argument upon a great constitutional question. For his part he was not governed by the small motives that governed men who thought themselves great.

Mr. Butler said he was sure Mr. Logan was quite worthy of a presidential candidacy.

They were "older" states. "Out of our way, said Mr. Plumb. We den't ask a ma said Mr. Plumb. We don't ask a man how old he is or where he came from. We are too husy to go into pedigrees. We ask him what he is, what he can do, and Kansas says "welcome" to Dakota, which is now opposed by the same party that opposed the commission of Kansas, and the first steps under the new Democratic administration.

Mr. Call opposed the commissioner's bill. The will of the people of Dakota, he said, had not been ascertained on the question of division or on the proposed constitution, and they should have an opportunity of being heard on these questions before the action of congress was necessary. He saw no necessity of such haste.

The movements of boots and sheet wenty four hours, with no signs of abatement, and is now about two feet deep with a cold north wind blowing. The snow has diffred in some places five and six feet deep. The cattle will certainly perish. It is the worst storm that has prevailed here for years.

The Reason Why.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A Tombstone, Arz., special to the Post says, that the reported causes leading to the shooting of Captain (Crawford is confirmed by the arrival here from Sonora of a citizen crediting the reports that last month fourteen of Crawford's crowd while intoxicated attacked Mexican citizens living at Frontase. Mr. Edmunds said that after all these years of effort and application by these people the matter should now be disposed of. People of a territory, Mr. Edmuds conof. People of a territory, Mr. Edmids con-tinued, had no right to remain a territory forever. The United States paid a very large part of territorial expenses and should be relieved of that burden as soon as conve-

The bill reported from the committee was then passed: Yeas 12, nays 22. The only Democrat voting in the affirmative was Mr. Voorhees. Negative votes were all Democrats. read and filed.

Mr. Blair moved that the senate take up the education bill heretofore introduced by him and reported favorably from the committee on education and labor. Pending this motion Mr. Plumb moved an adjournment. Pending that motion Mr. Blair asked consent to say a few words. Several objections were heard.

Mr. Blair opposed Mr. Plumb's motion, and called for the yeas and nays, but the motion was carried, and the senate adjourned until Monday next.

In the committee of the whole the house approved the bill further endowing the Emporia normal school with twelve remaining sections of the sait lands.

Mr. Drought's bill for consolidating cities was passed on the third reading.

In conclusion, Mr. Logan repeated that whatever pretense may be made as to the reason for excluding Dakota, the real reason was it would have a Republican majority; but the American people had an abiding sense of justice. They knew that all elements for statehood existed in Dakota. They why, he asked, should not this new state be placed in the cluster of the American union, that it may add its share in the light and glory of the republic.
